Question 22

Read the story below and answer the questions that follow.

There was once a woman called Pandora. She was said to be the first woman on Earth. The god Zeus asked Hephaestus, the god of artisans and sculptors to make a woman out of clay. Then, Zeus brought the woman to life and named her Pandora. When Pandora got married to Epimetheus, Zeus gave them a gift for their wedding. It was a beautiful box that was locked. He told the couple that they should never open the box and they agreed.

After a while, Pandora began to wonder what was in the box. 'Could it be gold or silver? Maybe there are precious stones? Surely just a quick look inside, couldn't do any harm. Could it?' thought Pandora. Pandora tried very hard to keep her promise not to open the box but she was very curious.

One night after Epimetheus had gone to bed, Pandora secretly opened the box. Suddenly, death, disease and hardship flew out of the box. Pandora was shocked to see what she had done and slammed the box shut. She felt horrible for breaking her promise and cried. Question 22

Joanne Rowling, or better known as J.K. Rowling, is a British author best known for her world-famous 'Harry Potter' fantasy series. In 1990, while Rowling was on a four-hour delayed train trip from Manchester to London, the idea for a story of a young boy attending a school of wizardry came into her mind.

'I really don't know where the idea came from,' she told The Boston Globe. 'It started with Harry, then all these characters and situations came flooding into my head.' When she reached her flat, she began to write immediately.

In 1995, Rowling finished her story for 'Harry Potter and the Philosopher's Stone'. She submitted the manuscript to twelve publishing companies, but all of them rejected the story. Then, a year later, her story was finally accepted by an editor from Bloomsbury, a small British publishing house in London. The decision to publish the Rowling's book was apparently because of Alice Newton, the eight-year-old daughter of Bloomsbury's chairman. She had been given the first chapter to read by her father and had immediately taken a liking to it.

Today, the 'Harry Potter' series is famous worldwide, winning multiple awards, sold millions of copies, and even made into box office movies.

It was the beginning of Elena's end-of-year holidays. She would have 7 weeks of holidays and she had free time to do whatever she liked. She always liked to involve herself in business and making money. Elena was very good in drawing henna on hands and knew that this would be a good opportunity to earn some money.

Many people love decorating their hands during events and functions. The months at the end of year are always full of weddings, Deepavali and Christmas. She started her henna or mehendi service during her cousin Usha's wedding. In Indian weddings, henna is traditionally applied to the hands and feet of women to enhance their beauty. It is completely natural and painless. She drew designs on the bride's and all the ladies' hands. They were amazed at the beautiful designs she did. Some of them even fancied a temporary tattoo on their arms or legs.

Elena's brother, Anand helped her by printing and handing out her name cards to the guests. By promoting her service this way and through social networking on the Internet, she managed to set up a booth when there were events in companies and colleges. Many people visited her booth and she drew henna on their hands. She started to get bookings for Indian and Malay weddings. Nowadays, henna is a modern trend among the Malays and Chinese. They applied it as a part of their fashion on their hands or feet. There were many bookings because her charges were reasonable. She charged RM10.00 per hand.

Ahmad was a little boy who had a bad temper. One day his father, Pak Osman gave him a bag of nails and a hammer. He told Ahmad that every time he lost his temper, he must hammer a nail into the back of the wooden fence.

The first day, Ahmad hammered 35 nails into the fence. After three weeks, the number of nails hammered gradually dwindled down. He discovered it was easier to hold his temper than to drive those nails into the fence. He learnt to control his anger.

The day came when Ahmad did not lose his temper at all. He told his father about it and Pak Osman suggested that he should pull out one nail for each day that he was able to hold his temper. Many days later, Ahmad was finally able to tell his father that all the nails were gone.

Pak Osman took Ahmad to the fence and said, "You've done well but look at the holes in the fence. The fence will never be the same." He added, "When you say things in anger, they leave a scar just like the nails."

How is there summer, when the cicadas sing?
How is there fall, when trees shed their leaves?
How is there winter, when snow chills our bones?

Curious granddaughter, I shall let you know,
Why does the world have its days and its nights,
Listen closely, though you might not believe,
My reason might be something you cannot perceive.

In Zhangwei Mountain lives a magical god,
His head is of human, his body of serpent,
His long red scaly body illuminates the dark,
In his mouth, a candle burns for the north heaven's gate.

He lets out a strong blow, winter comes with snow,
Summer appears fast once he takes a deep breath,
He lets out a sigh, autumn comes with rain,
Spring breaks forth once the god is content.

So mighty is he, this Candle Dragon,
The magical god of Zhangwei Mountain,
His blinking causes the day as it causes the night,
He gives the darkness; he presents the light.

Mum : Oh yes! You did a very brave thing that day, Boon Yap. I am so proud of you. If you had not called the fire department sooner, more things would have been destroyed and God knows what might have happened to Puan Suraya and her son.

Boon Yap: Our teachers at school have always told us to be alert to our surroundings in. They also told us how important it is to call MERS 999, the emergency hotline. However, we must never abuse the 999 number or make prank calls.

Yesterday, Ramli and his brother were doing some revision quite late at night. They left the window open to enjoy the cool breeze of the night. Suddenly, they were shocked to see smoke coming out from their neighbour's compound. They saw their neighbour's house that was on fire.

The quick-thinking boys quickly woke their parents up and called the fire department. Then, Ramli and his father rushed out carrying pails of water to control the fire. They alerted the other neighbours who joined them. Soon, two fire engines arrived at the scene. The firemen worked quickly to put out the fire.

Luckily, there was nobody in the burning house. The firemen praised Ramli and his brother for their civic-consciousness.

One evening, Madam Lee was ironing clothes in her bedroom. Suddenly, she heard a squeaking sound. Then she saw a mouse running across the bedroom.

She was afraid of mice so she screamed loudly for help. Her husband came running to the bedroom with a broom to chase the mouse away. The mouse quickly ran out of the bedroom.

Madam Lee and her husband searched their house but they could not find it. After a while, they gave up their search. They decided to place a mousetrap in the house to catch it.

PRACTICE 2

Ali and his family went for a picnic at Lata Kinjang. His mother cooked many types of food. They put all their things in the car and his father drove them there. Once they reached there, Ali quickly helped his parents to set up their picnic spot. Then, Ali and his brother dived into the water and swam happily.

Encik Kamal helped his wife to serve the food they brought. Later, he sat under a shady tree and enjoy reading his favourite magazine. An hour later, they had lunch together and enjoyed the scrumptious food.

At 5 o'clock, they packed their things and headed home. Although Ali was tired, he was very happy and his father promised them that they would go there again.

Last Sunday, Arun, Chong and Hamid decided to go to the pond not far from their house to catch some tadpoles. They wanted to study the life cycle of a frog. They carried nets and bottles to the pond.

As soon as they reached there, they put their things under a tree. They saw many tadpoles in the water and started catching them with their nets. The boys put the tadpoles into their bottles. Suddenly, Arun slipped and fell. He broke his bottle of tadpoles.

Hamid and Chong quickly helped him to the riverbank. Arun was sad because he had lost all the tadpoles he caught. However, his two friends gave him some of theirs. Arun was grateful to have such kind friends. After resting for a while, the boys went home.

PRACTICE 3

Two weeks before Chinese New Year, Ah Huat's family started to spring-clean the house. His father assigned jobs to everyone in the family. They started cleaning the house early in the morning.

Ah Huat's mother mopped the floor while his sister wiped the windows. Ah Huat dusted away the spider webs while his father decorated their house. They were as busy as a bee.

In the evening, they got their job done. Ah Huat was so thirsty that he drank two cups of juice to quench his thirst. Everyone was tired but they felt happy.

Ah Meng would like to have his own bicycle. His father asked him to run errands for their neighbours to earn some money to buy the bicycle.

During the school holidays, he swept dried leaves on his neighbours' lawn. He also went to the grocery shop to help Mr Chong at his shop. He saved all the money that he earned in a piggy bank.

A few weeks later, he counted the money he had earned. He had RM 500. His father brought him to the shop to buy the bicycle of his dream. Ah Meng's father was proud of him.

PRACTICE 4

Ah Chong and his brother have a special hobby. They like to collect wildflowers. During the holidays, their parents will bring them to visit parks or forests to collect colourful wildflowers.

After they have collected the flowers, they will bring the flowers home. At home, they arrange the flowers between the sheets of paper. They use books to press the flowers so that they will be flat. When the flowers are dried, they paste them in a scrapbook. Sometimes, they go to the library to read books on plants.

Ah Chong and his brother hope that they will become botanists when they grow up.

Raymond was walking along the road when he saw two men rushing down the stairs from a shophouse. The men looked suspicious. They were carrying some heavy bags towards a car.

They opened the car boot and tried to put the heavy bags in. Raymond knew something was wrong. He quickly wrote down the plate number of the car. Then, he phoned the police.

After a few minutes, a patrol car arrived with siren wailing. The men tried to run away but the policemen managed to arrest them. Then, the policemen opened the car boot. They were shocked to see packets of drugs in the bags. The policemen thanked Raymond for his quick action.

PRACTICE 5

Last Saturday, my school held its annual Canteen Day to raise fund for the poor pupils. Each class was encouraged to open a stall.

My classmates and I decided to sell chocolate cakes and cupcakes. We decorated our stall with cartoon characters and colourful ribbons. We put our cupcakes on display in a glass cabinet. We also displayed the prices of our cakes. Our cupcakes were a hit among the pupils and teachers as they were cute and colourful. Many people bought our cakes as they found our cakes very delicious. Some pupils bought some cupcakes to be taken home too.

We managed to sell all of our cakes and made quite a profit. It was a tiring day but my classmates and I felt very happy and fulfilling.

Amy's mother was busy preparing sandwiches in the kitchen. She had already made delicious fried noodles and curry puffs. She put all the food in a picnic basket. They were having a picnic in the park.

Amy's family got into their car. Her father drove carefully to the picnic site not far from their house. When they arrived at the picnic site, Amy's parents placed a mat on the ground. Amy helped her mother to place all the food on the mat.

After playing on the swings, slides and see-saws, Amy and her brother were very hungry. They were delighted to see the variety of food. They quickly helped themselves to the mouth-watering food.

PERAK EXCELLENT!

Preface

Amanjaya 2017 Module is a self-instructional package module; a language learner should be able to use this module at their own pace with minimal guidance from the ESL teachers. There are three major sections worth a mention. Section A covers mostly on Grammar, Section B covers Comprehensions and Social Expressions and Section C is for Writing.

The exercises and notes in this module were produced by Key Trainers from various parts of Perak. Yet, it is far from perfect and of course there will be occasional errors throughout the module.

Some of the questions and items were taken from previous Amanjaya Module. Thanks to feedbacks from many Language teachers, certain aspects have been weighed and that includes the continuation from the previous module.

Since the module will be no longer provided as a printed copy, the layout of the items in this module was designed to help teachers in printing the material with minimal cost. Teachers will be able to print a topic of their choice (which consists of two pages of exercise) only on a piece of paper.

Realising that different language learner requires different approaches and methods of teaching; the contents have been toned down to cater different language proficiency. This is to minimise confusion a language learner might develop during the learning process. The notes on grammar for example can be found in the text book with reference provided at the end of the module. Some parts (such as Writing) rely on the language teachers' creativity to tackle the question themselves.

Amanjaya 2017 module is designed to emulate a real examination. This module provides exercises based on UPSR formatted question. However, it is best to bear in mind that this module is a standalone exercise. It is NOT built to tell, promote, or introduce LPM's marking method or techniques. The items in this module should also be treated as a standard exercise and every question in this module was built based on the format introduced by LPM. It does/will not provide any hints or types of question/answer that might be featured in upcoming UPSR.

A module like this, which covers a wide range of topics, has to draw on the knowledge and experience of many different advisers. We have been fortunate to receive the help of who have given great time and care to commenting on early draft of the manuscript and advising how it might be improved. Thank you.

SET 11

Read the passage below and answer the questions that follow.

What is bullying? Bullying is when someone says or does something intentionally hurtful and they keep doing it even when you tell them to stop or show them that you are upset.

There are three main forms of bullying: physical, verbal, and social. Physical bullying can be hitting, kicking or pushing someone around. Making fun of someone in a mean and hurtful way or spreading lies and nasty stories can be the verbal form of bullying. Social bullying takes place when you purposely leave someone out, ignore or disallow them to join in. There are some who even resort to threats.

Bullies can be males or females, adults or children. Bullies usually get away with their behaviour because their victims are afraid to tell anyone about it and give in to the bully. Bullying is not a reflection of the victim's character but rather a sign of the bully's lack of character.

The Tiger and The Dove

The tiger, majestic and proud
Fearless, strong and solitary
A predator by nature
Domineering yet wary.

The dove, gentle and harmonious
Passive and apprehensive
A free spirit by nature
But always on the defensive.

The jungle's most perilous feline
Encounters the fragile dove
A most unlikely pair
Yet friendship they have found.

The future lies uncertain
For the tiger and the dove
But they can conquer anything
If they just remember to love.

A very good morning to the headmaster, teachers and my fellow friends. I am George, the President of the Environment Club. Today I will be talking about the reasons we need to recycle. Recycling is a good way to save the natural resources. Less garbage is produced when we recycle, so this keeps waste from piling up in landfills and the land can be used for other purposes. We can also help the environment through recycling. When we recycle, it slows down global warming because less greenhouse gases are released into the air. We can reduce the need to damage the habitats such as forests and rivers. In conclusion, recycling is a good practice that benefits everyone. You can get rid of unwanted old items and at the same time benefit others who need it. Let's take care of the earth and start recycling today.

| Salutation | Dear Zhafir, |
| Introduction | How are you? I hope that you are in the pink. I had an amazing experience bungee jumping in New Zealand. I was so scared and I could not feel my hands minutes after I jumped. |
| Content | I went to the bungee site at Kawarau Bridge. For your information, it is the first and the oldest bungee site in New Zealand. My father paid NZD250.00 for the jump. It was a birthday gift according to him. |
| Closing | I am so thrilled to skydive tomorrow morning. Surely I will write to you and tell you more about it. I have to pen off now. Till then, bye! |
| Complimentary Closure | |
| Signature | Yours sincerely, Amy |

NOTES

- An informal letter is sent to someone you really close, so you can use "Dear _____" in the salutation and end the letter with less formal closure such as "Best regards", "Warm wishes" etc.
- The language used in writing an informal letter is not as formal as in a formal letter but avoid using the "SMS" language – luv, bcoz, LOL, OMG, FYI etc.

DIARY ENTRY
(YEAR 3 TEXTBOOK PAGE 78)

Dear Diary,

Today, our school organised a Clean-Up Day. Early in the morning, we gathered at the school compound to receive a briefing by our Headmaster. All teachers and students were divided into several groups according to the places that we had to clean.

My group members and I helped Puan Lily to clean up the Self-Access Room. We swept the floor, emptied the rubbish bins, decorated the room and a lot others.

After that, Puan Lily took us out for a lunch at KFC! We were so excited!

Everyone was tired but we had an enjoyable day today!
